

Jimmy Jack's not slack

First Aid: Learning the lingo

A resource to support learners in understanding the lingo of First Aid.....

Background

- ▶ Employees across a range of industries are required to comply with National First-Aid Guideline Competency Standards as part of an industry qualification.

Background

- ▶ National First Aid standards are provided by four endorsed national First Aid guideline competencies.
- ▶ Training package qualifications incorporate the national first aid competency guidelines with specific industry requirements.

Background

First-aid units of competency common to qualifications across a range of training packages include:

- ▶ HLTCPR201A Perform CPR
- ▶ HLTFA201A Provide basic emergency life support
- ▶ HLTFA301B Apply first aid
- ▶ HLTFA302A Provide first aid in remote situation

Background

First Aid training utilises texts such as, Australian Red Cross First Aid: Responding to Emergencies.

- ▶ Texts provide critical information needed to achieve and maintain First-aid competency.

Need for resource

The First Aid texts often characterised by:

- ▶ Dense text and complex structure
- ▶ Unfamiliar medical terminology
- ▶ Illustrations and photographs that reflect situations, characters and contexts unfamiliar to many learners.

Resource target group

- ▶ Indigenous Australians living, working or undertaking a range of qualifications in regional or remote locations.

Need for resource

- ▶ Community based Indigenous people may:
 - use community dialects or non standard forms of English
 - have low levels of formal schooling
 - have low ACSF levels
 - undertake First Aid competencies online without support.

Overview

WELL LLN Resource funded by DIISRTE

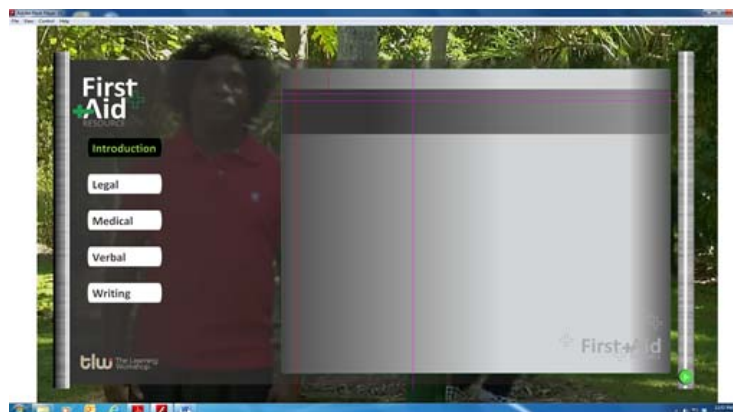

Interactive CD ROM utilising:

- ▶ Film containing relevant first Aid situations, language and communication processes
- ▶ Learning – additional information related to the film scenarios
- ▶ Interactive practice and test activities

Overview

- ▶ Support material addressing the underpinning LLN skills of First Aid
- ▶ Links to training package competencies – Resource does not directly link to specific elements or performance criteria
- ▶ Generic content should retain currency for approximately 3 years.

Take a look

Contact

Sue Muller

sue@thelearningworkshop.com.au

► Phone: 07 40410299

► 0407112523

tlw The Learning
Workshop® building better business